Explore Cumberland: Discover the Hidden Gems in Your Own Backyard

You don't have to travel far to find breathtaking landscapes, rich heritage, and unforgettable experiences. In fact, some of Nova Scotia's most treasured destinations are right here in Cumberland County and the Explore Cumberland tourism initiative wants locals to rediscover their own region while helping to put it on the map.

From the majestic tides of the Bay of Fundy to the serene shores of the Northumberland Strait, Cumberland is packed with hidden gems that rival any global destination. Whether you're exploring the vibrant arts culture of Parrsboro, hiking the stunning Cape Chignecto Provincial Park, taking a relaxing stroll along the boardwalk in Pugwash, enjoying the historic charm of Amherst, hitting the mountain bike trails in Wentworth, discovering the incredible Cliffs of Fundy UNESCO Global Geopark, visiting the world-renowned Joggins Fossil Cliffs UNESCO World Heritage Site, there's something here for everyone.

But tourism doesn't just mean visitors from away. Supporting community tourism begins at home.

"Cumberland residents are our greatest ambassadors," says Eileen Davage, Economic Development Officer for the Municipality of Cumberland. "When locals explore their own backyard and share those experiences online, it helps build pride, support small businesses, and spark curiosity in others — both near and far.

That's where Explore Cumberland comes in.

Springhill, River Hebert host Davis Day ceremonies

It was 100 years ago when William Davis was shot and killed during a miners' strike in New Waterford, Cape Breton.

The communities of Springhill and River Hebert gathered on June 11 to remember Davis as well as those miners who lost their lives in mine disasters and accidents.

In Springhill, mining historian Mary Willa Littler talked about Davis' connection to Springhill and why it's important to remember him.

Davis emigrated to Canada and settled in Springhill in 1888. Davis left Springhill to live and work in the Cape Breton coal mines around 1905.

He was killed on June 11, 1925 during a protest by striking miners in New Waterford after the mining company cut off water and electricity during a long, bitter miners' strike.

Numerous wreaths were laid by representatives of the various levels of government, including Cumberland County Mayor Rod Gilroy, the provincial Labour Department, the labour council and the steelworkers union as well as numerous community members who laid wreaths in memory of family members lost in three major mine disasters in 1891, 1956 and 1958 as well as in countless mine accidents.

In River Hebert, students from the O2 class at River Hebert District High School coordinated the Davis Day service at the miners' museum.

The ceremony included reciting the names of miners who lost their lives in the mining industry that began in the community in the late 1800s and continued through to the early 1980s as well as the laying of wreaths at the foot of the miners memorial.

The names of approximately 120 miners are inscribed on the monument.

HarbourFest returns to Pugwash this July

The 19th annual edition of HarbourFest will once again celebrate life and leisure along the Northumberland Shore near Pugwash.

This year's edition of the popular summer event runs July 25 to 27 with numerous events lined up to celebrate summer and what life has to offer along the shore.

There's a great mix of free concerts in Eaton Park, with live music on two nights featuring Ryan Cook – A Tribute to Hank Williams and Big Fish.”

Food trucks will be rolling in Friday and Saturday and a beer and wine garden to enjoy will be at Eaton Park on Saturday.

On land and along the beach, there's plenty more to enjoy, whether participating or as a spectator. This includes the ever-popular Sinkers Conference, where participants build and race their cardboard boats.

The 5K Salt Dash Run, sponsored by Windsor Salt, is also back. Thanks to perfect tides this year, organizers are expecting a strong turnout for the Stand Up Paddleboard events.

The Kid Zone is back, along with the Bouncy Castle, Beach Volleyball, Wagon Rides, Tie a Knot for Peace and more.

Competitive Log Rolling returns as well, with an expert on hand Friday to offer lessons and practice before Saturday's competition.

New is the Crockery Smash.

And we're thrilled to announce Harbourfest Presents will showcase The Fabulously Rich—a tribute to The Tragically Hip—on Aug. 31 at Eaton Park.

More details will be available in the coming weeks on HarbourFest's social media channels.

The final schedule will be distributed around the county and easily viewed and downloadable at pugwashharbourfest.ca.

Springhill's new fire station official opening June 21

Springhill and area residents are getting ready to celebrate the opening of the community's new fire hall.

An official opening ceremony is scheduled for Saturday, June 21, 2025, from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. There'll be tours of the facility along with a ribbon-cutting ceremony and an opportunity to meet the volunteer firefighters who help keep the community safe.

Construction of the new fire station began last July with Iron Maple Constructors leading the project from ground-breaking to its completion. The building, at approximately 11,000 square feet, is nearly twice as big as the former fire station home on Main Street that opened in 1972.

The facility on Miners Memorial Drive also has a large training room that doubles as a community room.

The building will have easier community access in that firefighting section of the building is separated from the training/community room.

The community room also comes with a divider so more than one event or training session can take place simultaneously.

The new fire station has four large bays, including one which is a drive thru for easier access for the emergency vehicles. There's more space in the bays, including overhead, and there's a system that vents exhaust directly outside.

You're Invited! Springhill Fire Department Grand Opening!

Join us as we mark this exciting milestone with a special ribbon-cutting ceremony, guided tours of the new facility, and a chance to meet the dedicated volunteers who serve and protect our community.

Date: Saturday, June 21st, 2025

Time: 11:00 a.m. - 1:00 p.m.

Location: 37 Miners Memorial Drive, Springhill

Light refreshments will be served.

Everyone is welcome—bring your family and help us celebrate!

There's also more storage space and easier and separate access for bunker gear and other equipment used by the fire service. The Springhill Fire Department's new home is just one of several major investments by the Municipality of Cumberland over the last couple of years, including more than $2.5 million in new fire trucks and other apparatus.

The municipality has also invested $250,000 in each of the last two years on replacing self-contained breathing apparatus (SCBA). The new SCBA will be standardized across all departments so that firefighters from one department will be familiar with the equipment from another.

Investment in new radios, pagers, bunker suits, hose testing equipment and gear washers as well a helmets, boots and other personal protective equipment amounts to more than $250,000 per year.

These investments are a reflection and acknowledgement of the importance of the fire service to Cumberland County.

New recreation hall opens at Glooscap Campground

Several years of planning and preparation have resulted in the construction of a new recreation building at the Glooscap Campground near Parrsboro. Owned and operated by the Municipality of Cumberland and located at 1380 Two Island Road, the campground features 39 seasonal RV sites with two-way service (water and power), 14 unserviced tenting sites, eight 20-amp service sties and 16 30-amp sites (five are pull-through).

There's beach access, flush toilets, coin-operated showers, free WiFi, 24-hour security, a children's playground, mini-putting greens, a dumping station, fishing, rock and mineral collecting, a tiny library and fire pits.

The campground is pet friendly with firewood and ice available along with friendly staff willing to help. The new recreation building enhances the campground experience for both seasonal and transient campers by providing a central, weatherproof space for socializing, relaxing, and participating in activities. It fosters community among long-term campers and offers added amenities and entertainment for short-term guests. There is a television along with games, books, dart boards and puzzles.

The rec building is just one of several improvements made to the campground in recent years. Since the end of the 2024 season significant capital improvements have been made, including electrical upgrades and the installation of a septic system. For more information about the Glooscap Campground, go to www.cumberlandcounty.ns.ca/glooscap-campground.html.

SUMMER ORGANICS COLLECTION TIPS

- Line Your Bin
- Use paper bags or even empty cereal boxes to store food waste in before placing it in your green cart. This helps absorb moisture and keeps the cart cleaner.
- Freeze it!
- Freeze food scraps like meat, bones, and leftovers to reduce smells and pests.
 - On collection day, place the frozen items directly into your green cart.
- Set It Out Every Time
- Put your green cart out every collection day, even if it's not full
 - The longer food sits, the more it smells!
